

CAMERA MEN WILL VISIT RICHMOND

Photographers' Association of Virginia and Carolinas to Hold Convention Here.

HAVE BIG ART EXHIBIT

Pictures That Won National Fame Will Be Brought Here to Be Put on Display.

All preparations for the annual convention of the Photographers' Association of Virginia and the Carolinas, which will begin a three-day session at the Richmond Hotel on September 20, have been completed to the smallest detail. More than 100 members have notified the reception committee that they will be present.

The feature of the convention will be the display of artistic work done by the members of the association. In addition to this, the large photographic supply houses will have elaborate exhibits.

There will be daily sessions, and the customary entertainment features have been planned. Each day there will be a practical demonstration of photographic work by "Daddy" Lively, former Mayor of McMinnville, Tenn., and a veteran member of the profession.

Will Open Next Week. The convention will open on Tuesday, September 20, and will continue until the night of October 2. The delegates will be welcomed to the city by Mayor Ainslie. Members of the association from three States will be here, and, in addition to its officers, several officers of the National Photographers' Association, with which body it is closely affiliated, will attend.

The photographic display, the first ever held by the association, will be elaborate. Prize-winning pictures which received honors at the national association meeting last summer in St. Louis will be exhibited, while hundreds of others will be brought here for the occasion. Special rooms, with well-lighted booths, will be arranged for the exhibition.

Dealers Will Send Exhibits. Among the larger concerns that will send exhibits here are: Eastman Kodak Company, the Enco Company, John Haworth, Philadelphia; Frank L. Curry, Philadelphia; Susmann Photographic Company, Baltimore, and others.

Manly Tyree, of Raleigh, N. C., president of the national association, and former president of Virginia and Carolina Association, has announced that he will attend the convention for the purpose of getting 300 members to agree to go to the next annual convention of the national association, in Atlanta, next summer.

James A. Ward is the chairman of the local reception committee. The City Council has appropriated the sum of $100 towards the entertainment of the convention. The officers of the association are: Walter Holliday, Durham, N. C., president; John Howie, Columbia, S. C., first vice-president; C. E. Cheyne, Hampton, Va., secretary, and A. B. Hollister, Charlottesville, Va., treasurer.

OLD CADETS WILL ERECT MEMORIAL

Mrs. Margaret W. Freeland Will Be Remembered by V. M. I. Men of Former Years.

Graduates of the Virginia Military Institute during the past twenty years have contributed toward the erection of a monument over the grave of Mrs. Margaret Warlick Freeland, of Lexington, who is buried in Hollywood. A contract will be awarded within the next few days for the memorial.

Mrs. Freeland, during her life, was a warm friend of the cadet corps, and was loved by the student body, hundreds of whom are taking this method of honoring her memory. The movement to erect the monument originated with Colonel Jennings C. Wise, commandant of Virginia Military Institute, and General Scott Shipp, former superintendent of the Institute. These, together with Captain Waverly

W. La Prade, of South Richmond, form the committee in charge of the selection of the memorial.

For more than forty years Mrs. Freeland was a resident of Lexington, residing close to the Institute. As a girl, she saw the cadet corps march out to participate in the battle of New Market, and always took an active part in celebrating the anniversary of the encounter.

Mrs. Freeland died in May, 1898, and, as a coincidence, her funeral was held on May 15, the anniversary of the battle. While her body was being lowered into the grave in Hollywood, the cadet corps having its annual exercises over the graves of those who fell in the defense of the Confederacy.

Colonel Wise started the movement for the memorial nearly a year before he was tendered his present position. He sent circular letters to all of the living graduates of the past twenty years, and all responded promptly. When the monument is completed, it will be placed over the grave with suitable inscriptions.

WILL OPEN BIDS FOR EAGLES' HOME

Dixie Aerie Will Build on Old Site as Soon as Structures Are Removed by Purchaser.

Bids will be opened and contracts awarded on Wednesday night for the construction of the handsome home that will be erected at the corner of Third and Marshall Streets by Dixie Aerie, No. 338, Fraternal Order of Eagles. The new building was sold last week with the understanding that it be razed within thirty days. As soon as the site is cleared, the new home will be erected.

It is planned by the Eagles to build a three-story structure, with a basement. The cost of the building, without the ground and furniture, will be approximately $25,000. The basement will be used as a rathskeller, cafe and billiard parlor, while the lodge quarters proper will be on the top floor.

The ground floor will contain the offices, and will also be fitted up for the use of the Woman's Auxiliary of the order. The second floor will contain a large auditorium and ballroom. A stage will be erected for amateur theatricals or entertainment, and for the use of the orchestra during dances.

Dixie Aerie is one of the most flourishing lodges of Eagles in the State. It now has more than 800 members, and many applications have been turned down for lack of facilities. In addition to the present membership, Stonewall Jackson Aerie, of South Richmond, will have the full privileges of the new home.

James A. Ward is president of the lodge, and is chairman of the building committee, on which there are five trustees: Benjamin Lovenstein, chairman; Joseph Barker, past worthy president; Samuel Hirschberg, secretary; Irving Chapman, recording secretary; Thomas Redding, treasurer; John L. Satterfield, W. H. Wyatt and W. H. Lowry, trustees.

WILL SOON BEGIN ON NEW CAR LINE

South Richmond and Chesterfield Railway Secures Right of Way for Electric Road.

TO BUILD PLEASURE PARK

Dam at Falling Creek With Picnic Grounds and Many Amusement Devices.

Rapid preliminary progress is being made by the promoters of the South Richmond and Chesterfield Railway Company. Right of way over private property along its proposed route has been secured on advantageous terms, and four-fifths of the necessary capital has been subscribed. It is expected that actual construction work will start before winter.

It is planned to build and operate an electric line from the new terminus of the Virginia Railway and Power Company, at the junction of the Broad Rock and New roads, and the former to a point a short distance above Merkle's Mill, on Falling Creek. Trouble was experienced in securing the right of way, but the adjacent property owners have consented to permit their grounds to be used.

The route was surveyed and the line laid off by Colonel C. P. E. Burgwyn. The west side of Broad Rock Road will be used as far as the junction of the Broad Rock Lithia Springs Company, Incorporated. A strip of land of the necessary width through that property has been secured as far as the Belt Line track, and there the line will pass over other private property. A franchise to cross the county roads must be secured from the Chesterfield Board of Supervisors before any tracks can be laid. No application will be made until after the capital has been subscribed.

Will Make Pleasure Park. At Falling Creek it is proposed to construct a large pleasure park. There is sufficient water at that point to make an excellent lake. A large concrete dam will be built and an artificial body of water formed. Toboggan runs, amusements and other regulation amusement devices will be built for the accommodation of the patrons of the park.

The new park site is one of the prettiest spots in this section of Virginia. There are several large hills, while Falling Creek, which winds around through the valley, is as clear as crystal, and runs over huge rocks, which, in several places, make natural falls. Without any expense, a large grove could be converted into picnic grounds.

South Richmond and Chesterfield business men are behind the project. John C. Robertson, who started the Forest Hill line years ago, is in charge of the promotion of the scheme. Others interested in the proposed line are W. J. Carter, James Cox, Clarence Vaden and others.

The proposed car line will be slightly more than three miles in length. It will pass through a prosperous country that is being rapidly developed. One terminal will form a junction with another car line, while at the other end is Branch's Church, which was recently completed.

GIRLS AND BOYS COMING TO FAIR

Ready to Show What They Can Do With Corn and Tomatoes.

One of the special features of the Virginia State Fair, to be held October 1-11, will be the "Girls' Tomato Club" show, in which will be displayed the results of the work of the Virginia girls who have grown and canned tomatoes. The products of several gardens will be displayed, and some of the members will be on hand to tell how the club works, and the interest that has been created in tomato raising since the girls took hold. This exhibit will vie in interest with the display of the Boys' Corn Club, the members of which from all sections of the State, will be the guests of the State Fair Association on one day of the fair.

Visitors to the fair must come with the determination of keeping their eyes open all day and practically half of the night for an entire week. If they do not want to miss much of interest, for the 1913 Virginia State Fair will be of such magnitude and will cover so many diversified subjects that it will be necessary to arrange for a systematic tour of all buildings and the grounds in order to get the most satisfactory results.

The Industrial Hall, which covers two acres of ground, will not have an inch of vacant space, while the display of Virginia-grown fruits, flowers, nursery and ornamental stock will crowd the horticultural department to its capacity. The poultry department will have the most complete display in the eight years' history of the association.

Featuring the State Fair this year will be a dog show, for which special arrangements have been perfected. By these arrangements assurance is given that several of the finest kennels in the East and the South will be represented here.

The management has made greater effort than ever to bring every department up to the highest standard, while the Midway shows, the dozens of free attractions and the races, together with the pyrotechnic displays at night, will be the best that money can produce.

POLICE RUIN GAME Emmett Willis Charged With Inviting Friends to "Skin."

Emmett Willis, colored, was taken in town yesterday for inviting friends and Policemen Jacobini and Whitlock on a charge of having a little game of skin in his bachelor quarters at 814 Brook Avenue. Willis had just shifted the cards for the third deal when the police interrupted. There was a dead silence until one of Emmett's friends coughed significantly.

Emmett looked up and opined that it looked like a bad game. He said that he would call an automobile. He did.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Announcement

In 1848, about fifteen years before the Civil War, when this city was a village, Main Street west of Thirteenth a footpath, and Broad Street west of Fourth was occupied by frog ponds—before mule cars were thought of, electric cars were dreamed of, or automobiles smelled of—there was established in this city, by John H. Boschen, a "plant" for the manufacturing of Boots and Shoes, by the hand method, at 507 East Broad Street, and the product was "so different" that it soon became necessary to add the two adjoining stores, 509 and 511 East Broad (part of the site now occupied by Miller & Rhoads). As years went by the business was acquired by his son, Herman C. Boschen, who showed the same ability to make people love to grow up in Boschen Shoes, continuing to sell grandfather, father and grandson of the same families that had dealt with the founder of the concern. The establishment has now passed to W. H. & H. Carl Boschen, under whose management for the past fifteen years the business has prospered, and each year shows an ever increasing desire on the part of the public to walk on the level in Boschen Shoes. This establishment is the oldest retail concern of any kind in this country that has never moved, changed its name or ever passed out of the hands of the direct descendants of the founder—which would have been impossible had not the shoe-buying public been always appreciative of the efforts on the part of the owners.

We herewith announce the opening of our 131st season, and we do not hesitate to say that, as usual, we are displaying the most up-to-date or "now" Shoes that have ever been shown the public. They have that "Boschen" about them that no other Shoes have.

We also announce that we are handling (or footing) the famous ladies' shoes manufactured by Laird-Schober & Co., that so successfully compare with our Shoes made for gentlemen by Jas. & Banister & Co.

The great-grandfather of all mercantile interests in the South invites you to take advantage of the displays on Broad and Main Streets.

MURET AND "DR. HELD" PROBABLY SAME MAN

Police Believe Schmidt's Companion Figured in Chicago Murder Case.

PRIEST-SLAYER EXAMINED

Alienist Not Prepared to Make Statement Regarding Mental Condition.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New York, September 21.—A police report of the capture of "Dr." Held, a companion in crime of Hans Schmidt, the murderer of Anna Ammer, will be received from the police to-night. "I also hope to get the services of Benedict J. Greenhut and Isaac V. Gimbel. I had hoped to induce J. P. Moran to serve, but I have just learned that he has gone abroad. My idea is to fill the jury with bankers, business men, railroad directors, manufacturers and other men of high standing. I will not ask any man about his religious belief."

BRIGHTS DISEASE IS CURABLE

If one-tenth of the letters and statements we have received are true. Some of them include the analytical chemist's figures in support of the claim that the disease is curable. They come from all classes, including business and professional men; some are from physicians. The writers do not know us and are not interested in us, and would have no motive in writing other than the truth, and it is absolutely impossible to escape the conclusion forced by these letters, viz.: that Bright's Disease is curable and that many of the ninety thousand annually dying from this disease can live on to other terminations.

The truth that these letters and statements carry is of vital interest to insurance companies, to the Government and to the people. We would welcome an investigation by the highest medical authorities to test their genuineness, the motives that prompted them, and the facts they disclose, and a judicial decision on them as to the curability of chronic Bright's Disease, alleged to be incurable by all workers.

If you have Bright's Disease you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up.

Prominent Citizens on Coroner's Jury

The coroner's jury which is to determine the cause of the death of Anna Ammer will be selected from a panel of thirty-five of the most distinguished citizens of New York.

The panel will be drawn Tuesday after a conference between Coroner Feinberg and District Attorney Whitman. The coroner insists that the men must be of the highest standing, because of the possibility of popular prejudice entering into the case.

"Cornelius Vanderbilt, Theodore P. Shonts and Otto Kahn will head the panel if I can get them," said the coroner to-night. "I also hope to get the services of Benedict J. Greenhut and Isaac V. Gimbel. I had hoped to induce J. P. Moran to serve, but I have just learned that he has gone abroad. My idea is to fill the jury with bankers, business men, railroad directors, manufacturers and other men of high standing. I will not ask any man about his religious belief."

Muret, in his statements to newspaper men in the Tombs prison, strenuously denied being in Chicago at the time of the Hoch murders, and has also denied that he knew or met Dr. Held. The police record shows that the man actually did use the name of Dr. Held when he lived in Chicago.

Schmidt underwent a sanity test today in his cell in the Tombs. Dr. Gustav Shober, who conducted the examination at the request of Schmidt's lawyer, said at the end of his observation, which lasted an hour and a half, that he had found Schmidt "physically exhausted." He was not prepared to make any statement regarding his mental condition.

"I must see him again, perhaps two or three times, before I can make any positive statement," said Dr. Shober. "I found him to be impatient and nervous to-day. He is very intelligent and every intimation of doubt as to his sanity. Was his talk rambling?" Dr. Shober was asked.

Reads Prayer Book. Schmidt declined to attend the religious services in the Tombs chapel to-day. He remained in his cell reading his prayer book and the newspapers. He has not been shaved since his arrest.

Fair Weather Promised for Entire Country

Washington, September 21.—Fair weather generally for the entire country is promised by the Weather Bureau for the coming week. Chief Marvin, in his weekly forecast, issued to-day, says:

"Cool weather will prevail east of the Mississippi River during the early part of the week. There will be frost Monday morning in the Great Central Valley, the Upper Lake region and Western Lower Lake region, Tennessee and the extreme portions of the East Gulf States, and on Tuesday morning in the Ohio Valley, the Lake region, New England, the Middle Atlantic States, and possibly the interior of North Carolina and Northern South Carolina. These frosts probably will be heavy over the northern territory of the States."

"It will be warmer early in the week east of the Mississippi River; by Tuesday or Wednesday over the central portion of the country, and by Thursday or Friday over the Eastern districts."

"The week, as a whole, will be one of fair weather."

and is growing a beard that greatly alters his appearance.

This priest murderer has resolutely maintained that he is absolutely sane, and that he wishes to go on trial for his crime and pay the penalty as quickly as possible. Yesterday, however, he gave the first indication of a change of front, when, in conversation with his lawyer, he called attention to the fact that the head of his victim had not yet been found, and expressed the belief that unless it is discovered the district attorney will not be able to make out a case against him.

Inspector Paurot had announced that he would give to the newspapers to-day a full outline of the case against Schmidt, showing that the death of Anna Ammer had been established beyond doubt, and that it would be possible to establish Schmidt's connection with the crime even without the aid of the elaborate detailed confession which he made immediately after his arrest, which has been jealously guarded by the police ever since. To-day the inspector announced he would give the details of the case to the press, but he was not prepared to do so until Tuesday, but on that day he would have a complete report.

It is estimated that witnesses have been found who saw the priest slayer carry to the river portions of the dismembered body of the murdered girl a few hours after he had killed her. Inspector Paurot to-day disposed of the report that Schmidt on his arrival in Louisville from Germany, was accompanied by a woman. The woman who met the young priest on the ship went to her home in New Hampshire immediately after her arrival here. Schmidt did correspond with her for a short time, the inspector said, but the letters indicated nothing more than a feeling of gratitude on the part of Schmidt to a chance acquaintance who had taken a friendly interest in his troubles.

Keagle—Griffith. A very quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Griffith, 218 M Street, at 10 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when their daughter, Verna Gibson, became the bride of Claude Keagle, of Baltimore, Pa. Owing to the illness of the bride, who has been suffering with scarlet fever, the completed Northern tour was deferred until she is able to travel.

The wedding was attended by George S. Keagle, brother of the groom, and his wife, of McInture, Pa.

TUCKER MAY QUIT STATE SENATE

Said to Have Been Selected by President as Federal Judge for Alaska.

The announcement that State Senator John Randolph Tucker, of Bedford City, will be appointed United States judge to Alaska, and that he may be directed to sail for Nome in October, may have an important bearing on leading questions which will come before the next session of the General Assembly in January. While no official statement has been issued from the White House in regard to the appointment of Mr. Tucker, it is known that he has been strongly endorsed by Congressman Glass, in whose district he resides; by Senators Martin and Swanson, and Congressman Montague. As his wife is the daughter of the late General Wade Hampton, of South Carolina, the South Carolina delegation in Congress has joined Virginia in advocating his claims, and his friends take it as settled that he will receive the honor.

As a member of the State Senate, Mr. Tucker took an active part in the consideration of bills of State-wide interest. He voted to submit the proposition of State-wide prohibition to the people, and a dispatch from Washington says that in the event of his appointment a bitter fight will be made in his district over the selection of his successor.
